

ADVISING 101

How do I know who my advisor is?

- Log in to EagleNet and view “My Profile” to see your advisor’s name.

When should I see my advisor?

- You should meet with your advisor before registration begins. Contact your advisor for an appointment.

Why should I see my advisor?

- To make sure you are taking the appropriate classes to fulfill your degree and/or transfer requirements!

When can I register for classes?

- Spring 2010 priority registration is November 18th through November 24th.

When will I know the Spring class offerings?

- Spring 2010 classes will be on EagleNet October 22nd.
- Spring 2010 credit class schedules arrive October 29th.

What if I don’t plan to return next year?

- If you expect to graduate – confirm that you have met the requirements with your advisor & if you haven’t already, apply for graduation NOW – the deadline WAS September 1, 2009 – but you can still apply AND you must apply in order to have your degree granted.
- If you are not graduating with a degree but plan to transfer to a four-year college and would like help in that process, stop in the Advising & Transfer Center in 108 of Iowa Hall.

Do you have questions about counseling and/or career services?

- Our Student Development office is the place to go! Their office is in 115 Iowa Hall or you may contact them at 398-5471.

Enrolling at a four year university or college next semester?

- Application deadlines are important to know – as a rule we encourage you to have all admission materials submitted by November 1st so as to be eligible for early orientation. You should check with each institution for deadlines they may have in place. If you would like help in that process, we can assist you at the Advising & Transfer Center in 108 of Iowa Hall.
