

First off, you will need your k# and password set up before beginning this process. After logging into the Hub from the website <https://www.kirkwood.edu>, go to:

My Links | Academics | Course Catalog to search for available sections.

Particularly for returning students, it is good idea to run your degree audit while meeting with your advisor and when registering for classes.

Note: Degree Audit will help you know which of your classes apply towards your graduation requirements and Financial Aid. If you are taking a few classes to transfer back to your home college, check with your advisor there to make sure your courses will transfer.

Find your Degree Audit here: My Profile | Programs | Program Progress

In the Hub, you can find sections that fit in your schedule. If you have never registered before (or are not currently registered for any courses), you will see a link to Search the Course Catalog in the Student Schedule widget or alternatively under My Profile | Courses | Schedule | Course Catalog.

If you are currently registered for any courses, it will show up in your Student Schedule widget, just below all your student links. If you click on View Courses to get more details, it will take you to the Schedule widget on the Courses page.

There are two buttons, Course Catalog and Course Planner.

Course Catalog takes you to the Catalog to search for sections that work in your schedule (or plan courses you need to take while here at Kirkwood).

Course Planner takes you to where you can register for the course sections you have planned.

Using the Course Catalog, if you need Accounting, US History and Composition II, you would select the Term and select the Course Subject. If you know the Course number and Section already, you can enter it to the right of the Subject. If you don't know the course number, that is fine too.

Now that all the course sections have been planned on the schedule, it is time to actually register for the classes. If you are still in the Course Catalog, go to the Student Planning menu, and select Plan & Schedule.

On the Schedule tab, find the right term by clicking on the > button. Review the calendar view of your selected sections to make sure the course times fit well in your schedule and do not overlap. If there is a problem with your planned schedule, the course section will be highlighted in red.

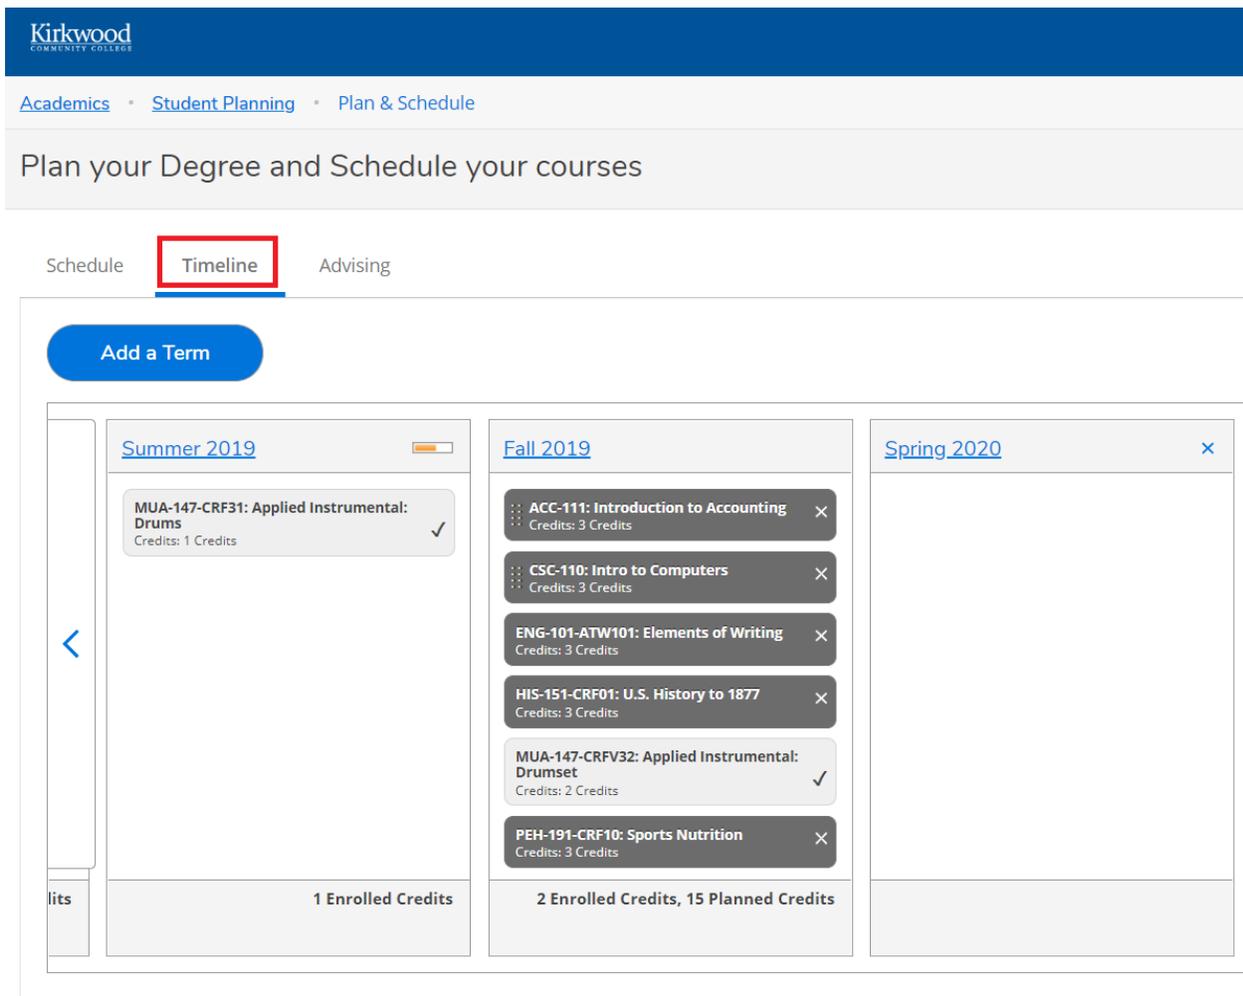

Once you are satisfied with your schedule, click the Register Now button.

If you are not currently in the Course Catalog, there is another way to register. In The Hub, go back to your Schedule page, and click the Course Planner button. This will get you to the Register Now button also.

There are other tabs besides just Schedule. If you click on the Timeline tab, you will see all the Courses and Course Sections you have planned, and the Course Sections you are already registered for.

A planned Course is like a placeholder. For example, you know you must take ACC-111: Introduction to Accounting and ACC-152: Financial Accounting, but you don't know what term you will take it in, what day and time it will meet, and who will be your instructor.

You can add the Course to your plan while meeting with your advisor (using the Add Course to Plan button):

ACC-152 Financial Accounting (4 Credits) Add Course to Plan

Introduces the basic concepts and procedures of accounting including the accounting cycle, merchandise accounting, internal control, long-term and contingent liabilities, corporate accounting and the collection of data for external reporting. Includes the preparation and analysis of financial statements. Credits: 4, Hours: (4/0/0/0), Prereq: none; Coreq: none; Arts & Sciences Elective Code: A; Comments:

The last tab is the Advising tab. The best way to get in touch with your advisor is to send an email, using the link underneath My Advisors.

If you Compose a Note or Request Review, your advisors will not see that until their next login into the system. It does not notify them a note has been left or that you want them to review your plan.
